Storytelling – Two stars and a wish

Let's find out what makes a good storyteller. Listen to the storyteller and give them two stars (things that they do well) and a wish (one thing that they might do better).

As you listen, think about:

Did they look at the audience?

Did their expressions change?

Did they move their hands?

Did they tell the story smoothly?

Did they use different voices?

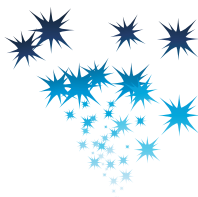

Did their story make sense?

Did they create atmosphere by using similes?

Did they use metaphors?

Similes and metaphors: These are ways of describing things.

A simile compares two things using the words as or like;
a metaphor describes something as if it were something else.

He was as cunning as fox is a simile. He is a sly old fox is a metaphor.
